

Announcement

Allison Campbell – Director of Clinical Services Calvary Launceston

Effective Date: 30 March 2022

Dear Colleagues

I wish to announce that Allison Campbell, Director of Clinical Services (DCS) for Calvary Launceston, has tendered her resignation effective from 30 March 2022.

Allison joined Calvary in March 2015 and during this time has undertaken a number of senior nursing roles, including as a 3A Nurse Unit Manager and DCS. In these roles, Allison has provided leadership and support for both the nursing and clinical teams.

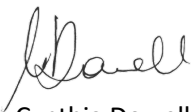

As DCS, Allison was responsible for clinical governance and leading the Launceston team to their last successful ISO accreditation in 2018. Allison also provided clinical leadership and oversight for a number of key projects, including the expansion of the Calvary Clinic from 9 to 13 beds and implementing an Allied Health model to assist with improving service offerings for our patients.

Allison has been a key member of the Launceston Executive and will be missed by her colleagues, direct reports and the broader Calvary Launceston team.

Whilst recruitment for this important senior clinical leadership role is undertaken, Kerry Snare - General Manager Launceston will cover the DCS role, including current reporting lines.

Please join me in wishing Allison the very best in her future endeavours.

Kind regards

Cynthia Dowell
