INTRODUCTION

We are fortunate that Wagga Wagga has a vibrant medical and specialist hub with a vast array of medical support services, however it is often difficult to navigate those important resources, in particular the pathway of terminal illness can be very confusing and overwhelming.

The members of the Calvary Palliative Care Enhancement Council are dedicated volunteers who saw a need for the community to gain a better understanding of the many roles of palliative care in living well within a terminal diagnosis.

Our objective is to enable you to better understand and utilise the many facets of palliative care that can provide assistance to you, your loved ones, family and carers.

In addition, this resource guide has been compiled to assist you in understanding what types of services are available and how to access those many services that support the provision of good palliative care, along with information that you will find useful in understanding some of the decisions that you may have to make along the way.

This resource guide does not and is not intended to give either professional advice or be a substitute for that advice. You are encouraged to approach your own professional advisers on all matters which may be particularly applicable to you, however we hope the information compiled in this guide will provide you with greater knowledge that will assist you in those important conversations you will need to have.
Calvary Riverina Hospital is the largest regional private hospital in New South Wales. The hospital has three campuses comprising Calvary Riverina Hospital which is the main campus (located on Hardy Avenue Wagga), Calvary Riverina Drug & Alcohol Centre (located on Emblen St Wagga) and Calvary Riverina Surgicentre (located on Edward St Wagga). The hospital provides a very diverse range of specialist acute and sub acute services to people from across the Riverina Regional area and Northern Victoria.

Services provided by Calvary Riverina Hospital include: Cardiology, Breast surgery, Dental surgery, Drug & Alcohol withdrawal and rehabilitation, Ear Nose & Throat surgery, General surgery, General medical care, Gynaecology, Intensive Care, Obstetrics, Ophthalmology, Orthopaedics, Paediatric surgery, Palliative care, Rehabilitation, Respiratory medicine, Sleep studies, Spinal surgery, Urology, Vascular surgery.

Calvary Riverina Hospital has a strong heritage and history in the community of Wagga Wagga having been founded by the Sisters of the Little Company of Mary and is a private not for profit health service. Located on site is the University Of Notre Dame Australia which provides medical student education and training. The hospital has a strong relationship with the tertiary sector supporting undergraduate and post graduate students in allied health, nursing, medicine and other professional groups.

Calvary Riverina Hospital Specialist Palliative Care Unit

Calvary Riverina Hospital’s Specialist Palliative Care Unit (SPCU) provides inpatient care to both public and private patients requiring palliative care support.

Many patients are admitted to the SPCU for comprehensive management and treatment of their symptoms such as pain, breathlessness, constipation or other discomfort associated with their disease. Some patients are admitted for end-of-life care, when circumstances or their condition prevents them being managed at home. This is the traditional hospice care function. Palliative patients may also be admitted for respite care.

Patients may be admitted into the SPCU multiple times, as their disease progresses and will be discharged home to family and/or carers as their symptoms are better controlled.

The SPCU clinical team work in partnership with the community based palliative care team ensuring care and treatment is well coordinated and managed, assisting people to live as well as possible during the palliative phase of their illness.

Calvary Riverina Hospital’s palliative care unit is a Specialist Palliative Care
Unit which means that patients are admitted under the care of a specialist physician and their care is managed by a multidisciplinary team comprising nursing, allied health, medical practitioners and pastoral care.

How do I access admission to the palliative care unit?

Patients may be referred to the palliative care unit by:
- Their General Practitioner
- Specialist Medical Practitioner
- Community Palliative Care Nurse
- Local Hospital

Calvary Palliative Care Enhancement Council

The Calvary Palliative Care Enhancement Council comprises a group of volunteers who are very committed autonomous community members and health professionals. The Council raise and distribute donated funds to support professional development and amenities to enhance the care at Calvary Riverina Hospital’s Specialist Palliative Care unit.

Wagga Wagga Base Hospital

Location: Edward Street, Wagga Wagga, NSW 2650
Reception: 02 5943 1000

The Wagga Wagga Health Service includes Wagga Wagga Base Hospital which provides acute services including a 24 hour emergency department, critical care, medical, surgical, paediatric, obstetric, and rehabilitation care. There is also an inpatient mental health unit and mental health community services.

A full range of allied health and support services such as dental, physiotherapy, occupational therapy, sexual health and violence prevention and response services are also provided. To support patients on discharge, patients may be admitted to the Hospital in the Home (HITH) service, Community Care Nurses or Palliative Care services in the community.

Palliative Care in the community is supported by General Practitioners and specialist palliative care nurses. Inpatient palliative care is supported by the patient’s admitting medical practitioner and clinical team. This care may include additional inpatient support by specialist palliative care nurses which enables continuity of care for the palliative care patient.

Public inpatient palliative care for Wagga Wagga Base Hospital patients is provided by Calvary Riverina Hospital. Inpatients of Wagga Wagga Base Hospital may be transferred to Calvary for inpatient palliative care depending on their care needs as assessed by their treating medical practitioner and palliative care team. Patients may be referred to inpatient palliative care through the Wagga Base Hospital emergency department, community palliative care nurses or their treating medical practitioner.
The Riverina Cancer Care Centre
Location: 31 Meurant Avenue, Wagga Wagga NSW 2650
Reception: 02 6932 1000

The Riverina Cancer Care Centre is a comprehensive cancer treatment facility located on the grounds of Calvary Hospital Riverina. The centre provides access to both Radiation Therapy and Chemotherapy treatments. Riverina Cancer Care Centre provides treatment to both private and public patients.

Radiation therapy is generally an outpatient procedure, whereas chemotherapy patients are frequently admitted as day patients. There is a charge for the services received at the Centre. For fee information, please contact the accounts department. Initial referrals for treatment are made by your General Practitioner or other treating specialist. Please bring along your referring letter from your doctor, a list of any medications you may be on, with information on the dose and frequency and any relevant x-rays or results if you have them. Riverina Cancer Care Centre provides patients with access to support from specialised services such as, the Cancer Care Coordinator, oncology Social Worker, Dieticians, Speech Pathologists and Palliative Care Nurses and a number of support groups. McGrath Breast Care Nurses, Amie St Clair Melanoma Nurse and a Prostate Support Nurse are also available for those patients with particular cancer types. There is a free local transport service available for patients needing to travel to the centre for treatment and have a valued team of volunteers that provide support and assistance to our patients.
The Forrest Centre Hospice
Lewisham Avenue, Wagga. Ph. 02 6932 3011

The Forrest Centre Hospice was officially opened in September 2018. The Hospice provides palliative care support in a residential setting for people who cannot be cared for in an acute hospital setting or at home and is ideally suited for those needing longer term care.

The Forrest Centre Hospice has ten (10) dedicated home like rooms offering privacy in a secure and supported setting featuring single rooms with private ensuites and a variety of indoor/outdoor spaces. All rooms are spacious for ease of patient mobility, to facilitate family and small group interaction and provide capacity for a family member sleepover. Rooms are equipped with a small kitchenette as well as independent air conditioning to suit the individual needs of each resident. A smart television is installed in each room and building-wide wifi is available to residents.

The Hospice provides twenty four hour nursing care including trained palliative care nursing staff, a multidisciplinary team approach to care and importantly pastoral care support. A range of activities are available to support living well at end of life. These include:

- Regular religious services
- A range of social activities
- Exercise and wellness programs

Patient care is managed by nursing staff in conjunction with the patient’s treating general practitioner and medical specialist involvement as required.

How do I access admission to the Hospice?

All patients require an Aged Care Assessment Team (ACAT) referral which enables the patient to receive Commonwealth aged care funding to support their accommodation and care. Referrals for ACAT can be from either:

- The patient’s general practitioner
- Specialist medical practitioner
- Community Palliative Care Nurse
- Local Hospital
- Self Referral
Aged Care Assessment and Respite Options

www.myagedcare.gov.au
Ph. 1800 200 422

My Aged Care is a Commonwealth government website and portal which assists people over the age of 65 to access funded aged care services. To access respite for your loved one in an aged care facility, they will need to be assessed first.

STEPS

1. Phone to register with My Aged Care on 1800 200 422 with your Medicare card ready. They will ask you a series of questions about your circumstances. Remember to say that the Assessment is for Palliative Care Respite, so that it is processed as a high priority.

2. Based on the information you give during your phone call with My Aged Care, you may be referred for a formal assessment with a My Aged Care assessor to better understand and support your needs.

3. An appointment will be arranged and the assessor will come to your home.

4. Depending on the outcome of the assessment, you will be able to access support services. Services can include:
   a. Short-term care services are available in the home or in an aged care home setting.
   b. After-hospital care (also known as transition care) is available if you are recovering from an accident or illness, including after a hospital stay.
   c. Short-term restorative care, if you have had a setback and want to get your independence back, short-term restorative care may be an option for you.
   d. Respite care (also known as short-term care) is for when you or your carer needs a break.

TIP: My Aged Care will phone you. Try to answer the phone after registering for an aged care assessment. They will try to ring 3 times only. It can be a good idea to utilise an answering machine, when trying to organise care arrangements.

MORE ABOUT RESPITE CARE

Respite care can support you and your carer with a break for a short period of time. This gives carers the chance to get to everyday activities or go on a planned break. Formal respite care may be for a few hours, days or for longer periods. It can take place in the home, an overnight respite cottage, a day centre or an aged care home.

There are different types of respite care to suit your situation depending on your needs, eligibility and what services are available in the area:

1. Emergency respite: When emergency respite care is needed, call your local Commonwealth Respite and Carelink Centre. Emergency respite care can be community based or in an aged care home.

   Local: Riverina Murray Commonwealth Respite & Carelink Centre.
   Ph. 1800 052 222. www.intereach.com.au

2. Community based respite care: In-home respite usually involves a paid carer coming to your home. Centre-based day respite usually takes place at a day centre or club.

3. Residential respite care (short stays in aged care homes): For residential respite care through an aged care home you will have to pay a basic daily fee and perhaps a booking fee, but not an accommodation payment or any additional means-tested care fees. The booking fee is a prepayment of respite care fees and not an extra payment. Contact your local Commonwealth Respite and Carelink Centre to access residential respite services on 1800 052 222.

GENERAL RESPITE CONTACT

Intereach Carer Respite. Sources vacancies in local Residential Aged Care Facilities. Phone 1800 052 222 to inquire and book a period of respite.

Respite Option: Wagga Palliative Care Volunteer Service

Trained palliative care volunteers have long been active and important members of palliative care services, helping patients and their families with a range of support services. This free support can include practical assistance, respite for carers in the home and companionship. To find out more, phone the Wagga Palliative Care Social Worker and Volunteer Manager on: 0408 699 084.
Community & Palliative Care Nursing and After Hours Support

1. Wagga Wagga Community Care Nursing: Community care nurses are able to provide: In home nursing care after a hospital stay, general nursing care, including assistance with chronic conditions, ‘hospital in the home’ services, which provide hospital type care outside of the hospital and palliative care nursing assistance, for people who have a life limiting illness and require support to stay at home. Contact Murrumbidgee Local Health District Central Intake on 1800 654 324.

2. Wagga Wagga Palliative Care Nurses: This service can be accessed by any person their carer or family who are living with life limiting and incurable illness. You can still be receiving treatment for your illness and access palliative care. It is not essential but it is preferred that referral to Palliative Care comes from your treating doctor, or community care nurse. However, anyone can make a referral providing the person being referred has given their permission.

   The service is here to assist you and your family to live as comfortably as possible with a life-limiting illness. The community service is provision is based on assessed needs. The palliative care nurses work closely with your GP, other medical specialists and health care providers.

   The palliative care nurses identify and assist you and your family to manage symptoms and problems which may be physical, emotional, spiritual or social. They work with other health professionals to make sure the care you receive is tailored to your needs and well coordinated.

   You can receive palliative care support whether you are at home, in a residential care facility or in hospital. Contact Murrumbidgee Local Health District Central Intake on 1800 654 324.

3. In Home Nursing Support via My Aged Care: To find out if you need an assessment and if you are eligible for help at home services, call My Aged Care on 1800 200 422.

   After assessment, you may be eligible under the Commonwealth Home Support Programme to receive personal care and nursing care in the home.

AFTER HOURS SUPPORT

1. NSW Ambulance Authorised Palliative Care Plan: Doctors (GPs) involved in palliative care have the option of completing an ambulance care plan for their palliative care patients, in consultation with the patient and their family. This plan specifically authorises NSW Ambulance paramedics to deliver individually tailored palliative treatment based on the GP’s advice as documented in the plan. In the event of a Triple Zero (000) call-out by the patient, the NSW Ambulance Authorised Palliative Care Plan may be initiated. This may include administration of medications and other actions to relieve and manage symptoms in the home. A copy of the care plan is kept in the patient’s home and must be shown to the attending NSW Ambulance Paramedics. Speak to your doctor about this after hours support.

2. NSW After Hours Palliative Care Helpline: Provides advice and support for palliative care patients, their carers, families and health professionals. The helpline is available within NSW on weekdays from 5pm to 9am, on weekends and public holidays on 1800 548 225. about.healthdirect.gov.au/palliative-care-after-hours-helpline

3. Palliative Care Nursing On Call: This service is provided on an individualised basis for patients who are assessed as being either deteriorating or in terminal phase. Speak to the palliative care nurse about this, in office hours.

4. Wagga GP After Hours Service: The Wagga GP After Hours Service operates outside normal surgery hours for urgent medical treatment. The service operates a clinic on evenings, weekends, and public holidays with a GP on-call for urgent home visits. To book a clinic appointment or to speak to the on-call General Practitioner, phone 02 6931 0900. Phone lines are open 30 minutes before clinic opening times.

   Clinic Hours of Operation
   Monday – Friday: 7.00pm–9.30pm
   Saturday: 6.00pm–9.00pm
   Sundays and Public Holidays: 9.00am–1.00pm and 5.00pm–9.00pm
   Christmas Day: 5.00pm–7.00pm

5. Speak to your doctor to find out if the clinic provides an after-hours service.

Home Help Support

You may be eligible for Australian Government funded aged care services, including help at home, if you’re an older person and finding it harder to do the things you used to do. You will need to have a face-to-face assessment of your care needs to find out if you are eligible. See Aged Care Assessment & Respite Options section of this booklet to find out how to register for an assessment.

If you’re not assessed as eligible, or are waiting for services, you can access privately funded services at any time.

The National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) provides support for people with disability, their families and carers in Australia. The NDIS will provide all Australians under the age of 65 with a permanent and significant disability with the reasonable and necessary supports they need to live an ordinary life. This may include personal care and support, access to the community, therapy services and essential equipment. For more information visit: ndis.gov.au/people-disability/access-requirements.html

For people who have been assessed as eligible for aged care home help, you may be able to access the following:

COMMONWEALTH HOME SUPPORT PROGRAMME
Ongoing or short-term care and support services, including help with housework, personal care, meals and food preparation, transport, shopping, allied health, social support and planned respite (giving a carer a break).

HOME CARE PACKAGES PROGRAM
Four levels of consumer directed coordinated packages of services through the including personal care, support services and nursing, allied health and clinical services. There are a number of different providers that deliver Home Care Packages. Call My Aged Care on 1800 200 422 to talk about options and providers in your area.

THE INTEREACH COMMONWEALTH RESPITE AND CARELINK CENTRE (CRCC)
www.intereach.com.au 20 Peter St, Wagga. Ph. 02 6932 8300
Provides short term support for NSW carers, so that family members can stay at home. There is no set fee to access general advice and support. Depending on your needs, and the person you are caring for, a carer contribution will be discussed. Your ability to contribute will be determined by you. Carers are allocated a support coordinator who will match their needs with services in the local area. They broker local services providers to then provide the service you need, for example, Australian Unity. Practical support can include:
- information and resources
- education
- connecting with other carers
- counselling
- planning (both long term & for an emergency)
- respite (emergency or short-term)
Home Modifications, Aids & Equipment

1. Wagga Wagga Community Health Service Occupational Therapy: Services are available for people with complex needs. Prescribe equipment aids & therapy tools to help with everyday tasks such as mobilise in a wheelchair, shower & get dressed, home environmental modifications such as ramps and rails, Aids and re-training to assist with getting in and out/on or off chairs, bed, toilets and shower. Ph. 1800 654 324.

2. Motor Neurone Disease NSW: FlexEquip is a service of the Motor Neurone Disease Association of NSW which provides aids and equipment for people living with motor neurone disease and other progressive neurological conditions, including multiple sclerosis and muscular dystrophy. FlexEquip, is a service of MND NSW. Ph. 02 8877 0999. flexequip@mndnsw.asn.au

3. Palliative Care Nursing: Have the ability to access equipment for palliative care registered patients. Speak to the team about your support needs. Contact Murrumbidgee Local Health District Central Intake on 1800 654 324 to enquire about palliative care services.

4. Private Providers: There are numerous private providers of equipment in the local area. Equipment can be purchased or hired. Search the local yellow pages or the internet.

5. My Aged Care: Home care packages are not intended to be an aids and equipment scheme. However, some aids and equipment, including custom made aids, can be provided when they are identified in the care plan and the item can be provided within the budget available for the package. Package funds can also be used towards a motorised wheelchair or motorised scooter. However, given the high cost of these items, it is expected they would be leased rather than bought. The package funds are capped. Where possible, the cost of any aids and equipment must be met within the package funds. If there are not enough funds in the package, you will need to pay any additional costs. Ph. 1800 200 422. www.myagedcare.gov.au/help-home/home-care-packages/aids-and-equipment

PHARMACY AND MEDICATIONS

PHARMACEUTICAL BENEFITS SCHEME (PBS)
The PBS ensures that Australians have access to affordable medicines. Most medicines available on prescription are subsidised under the PBS and should cost no more than $39.50 or $6.40 if you have a Concession Card. You will need to show your Centrelink, Medicare or DVA card each time you purchase medicines.

THE PBS SAFETY NET
If you or your family need a lot of medicines in a calendar year, there is a PBS Safety Net to help protect you financially. It is best to always go to the same pharmacy, so that they can record your spending in their records. If you have to use a number of different pharmacies, ask for a Prescription Record Form that you hand in each time you have a prescription filled at a pharmacy. If you reach the Safety Net Threshold you can apply for a Safety Net Card and then your PBS medicines will be cheaper or free for the rest of the calendar year. Ph. 1800 020 613. www.pbs.gov.au/info/general/faq

There is also a Medicare Safety Net for people who have high medical costs. To enquire about this, ask at a Medicare Office or Ph. 13 20 11.

LOCAL PHARMACIES
It is helpful to find out which pharmacies in your local area provide a home delivery service. Be sure to enquire about their delivery times and delivery fees. It is also good to know which pharmacies are open evenings, Sundays and public holidays. This will help you plan ahead when needing to fill scripts.

PHARMACY PREPARED BLISTER PACKS
Blister packs (sometimes called Webster-paks) provide a simple way to take the worry out of medications. By having your regular medications packed into a weekly blister pack you can ensure you are getting the right dose at the right time and it is easy to see if medication has been taken or not. Prepared blister packs are ideal for people who are on multiple medications each day, have complicated medication regimens or prone to missing or forgetting doses. Ask your pharmacist about this service and any related fees.

HOME MEDICINES REVIEW
This HMR review helps consumers use their medicines effectively, avoid unwanted side effects and get the most out of their medicines. The doctor determines that a HMR will benefit the consumer and gives a referral to the community pharmacy or accredited pharmacist of the consumer’s choice.
PERSONAL ALARMS FOR IN THE HOME

A personal alarm is an emergency call system that allows a person to call for help 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. The purpose of a personal alarm is to help people stay safe at home. They are useful for people living home alone, who have a chronic health condition, and/or are at risk of having a fall and not being able to get up. There are two types of personal alarms available: monitored and non-monitored.

Monitored personal alarms: If the device is pressed, staff at the monitoring centre will check whether the alarm was accidentally activated. If they do not hear a reply, they then act upon previously agreed upon instructions (e.g. telephone a friend, family member, or emergency services, 000). Medical information can be passed onto ambulance staff, if needed.

Non-Monitored personal alarms: These are similar to monitored personal alarms, except they rely upon someone who can assist being close-by or easily contactable. A telephone system dials pre-set numbers and delivers a pre-recorded message. The system continues to call the programmed numbers until the call is answered. In most systems, there is a feature that allows the system to know the call was received by somebody (not an answering machine or voicemail).

There are a number of service providers and those listed below are a small selection. These are listed in no particular order and this booklet is not able to make recommendations regarding which system is best for you. Most providers charge an establishment fee and then ongoing payments, often monthly. To find out more information about how these systems work and which might be best for you, visit: www.choice.com.au/electronics-and-technology/gadgets/tech-gadgets/buying-guides/personal-alarms

6. Advance Care Directive: An Advance Care Directive is a way to say what healthcare treatments you would like to have or refuse, should you be in a position where you are seriously ill or injured and unable to make or communicate decisions about your care and treatment. In NSW, an Advance Care Directive can be spoken or written. If you want to make an Advance Care Directive you can use the Advance Care Directive form developed by NSW Health (see link below), write a letter or statement about your wishes and tell someone that you trust and who knows you well.
Planning Ahead Checklist

To assist your family, you may wish to consider the following items:

◆ Does your family know your preferences regarding burial or cremation and the form of service?
◆ Do you have an Advance Care Directive and have you appointed an Enduring Guardian? (See Legal information for assistance). Does your family know your wishes contained within the directive?
◆ Has a Will been written and has an executor been appointed? There may be superannuation taxation implications after death. Seek advice on how to best manage these implications (see Legal information for assistance).
◆ Be aware that bank accounts in your name will be frozen after death and therefore cannot be accessed by your partner or family, for a period of time. Consider making arrangements to deal with this issue of access to funds.
◆ A final tax return will need to be filed after death, as well as a separate tax return for the estate.
◆ Review any life insurance policies to ensure nominated beneficiaries are still correct.
◆ Unpaid Debts. Make a list of current outstanding debts and the associated lender details e.g. mortgage.
◆ Is someone else’s name listed as an additional contact person on utility providers? E.g. electricity. This ensures that someone else can access the account if need be.
◆ Compile a list of documents and where they are kept. Documents include: birth certificate, marriage certificate, Will, Enduring Power of Attorney, insurance policies, property deeds / real estate details, bank account details, superannuation papers, Medicare card, Veteran Affairs card, medical insurance details, concession cards and any pre-paid funeral investments.
◆ Social Media Considerations. If you wish someone to have access to your email accounts at a later date, they will need the account information. Because of privacy laws, Gmail etc. will not provide passwords, although they can assist to close down an account. To close all google related accounts, go to support.google.com/accounts. To close Facebook accounts, open the Help Tab in Facebook and request an account be closed.
Handy Questions to Ask

Often, people can feel overwhelmed when a referral to palliative care is considered. Palliative care is not just about end-of-life care. Palliative care assists with symptom management and support. The palliative care team can also support your family and carer as well.

Below are some questions that can assist you to get the information you may need. You might like to have someone with you when you ask your doctor or specialist some of these questions. Not all the questions may be relevant to you and remember there is no such thing as a silly question.

Some questions to consider
1. I am not approaching the last days of my life, so why are you referring me to palliative care now?
2. How long do you think I have to organise my personal affairs?
3. How will palliative care help me?
4. What treatments will I continue to have? What is the purpose of those treatments?
5. What can I expect in the last months, weeks and days of my life?
6. What symptoms can I expect and how will this be managed? How can pain be managed?
7. How do I tell others what is happening to me?
8. Can I be cared for at home? Can I die at home, if that is what I want? What are my options?
9. What if I need medical assistance during the night?
10. Who can I speak to about my spiritual and emotional needs?
11. How can I still maintain my sense of hope?

Questions for the carer to consider
1. Being a carer can be stressful at times. Who can I contact if I am worried or concerned?
2. If I am exhausted, who can I speak to?
3. How can I talk about dying with my loved one?
4. Who can support me in my grief? (bereavement)
Advance Care Directive: A written document intended to apply to a point in the future when you don’t have the capacity to make decisions. It provides a legal means for a competent adult to appoint a substitute decision-maker and/or record their choices for future medical and personal care.
