Dear Resident and Family Members,

RE: COVID-19 UPDATE – Testing of Residents at Calvary St Joseph’s Retirement Community

We are writing to inform you that all Calvary St Joseph’s residents are being tested today for COVID-19. Given the current demand in NSW for testing, we do not expect to receive the results before tomorrow.

All Calvary St Joseph’s residents at the time of writing are well, and continued to be cared for in their rooms.

We kindly request your understanding and limit contact with the home due to the increased workload on staff. However please do not hesitate to contact the home if you wish to book a video call with your loved one or have any concerns. Care packages can be left with security.

For more information and regular situation updates, please visit www.calvarycoronavirusupdates.org.au

We are committed to ensuring that you are provided with the information you want – quickly and regularly. You can help us to ease anxiety by sharing this information with other family and friends.

Sincerely,

Martin Bowles
